EXPLOSION AT GIANT ANNIHILATES TWO

Nels Skalburg and Harry Hall are Instantly Killed—Two Injured

Two men were killed outright and two painfully injured by the explosion of a quantity of nitric acid at the Giant Powder Works about 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The dead men are Nels Skalburg, about 45 years of age. He leaves a wife and three children.

Harry Hall, 28, leaving a wife and child.

The injured men are: William R. Jones, foot slightly injured; Ruben Williams, several fractured ribs.

Assistant Superintendent R. H. Stratton gives the following version of the accident:

"I was just leaving the office when I heard the explosion at the nitric acid recovery house, which is about 800 feet distant from the office. The explosion was so slight that I thought it was one of the men making a test at the beach. Later, when I learned what had happened, I was amazed at the damage done. Just how the explosion occurred and just what happened will never be known, as the only witnesses were the two men who lost their lives.

"As a matter of fact, no explosion had ever before taken place in that department, and an explosion there was not thought possible. The material that exploded was nitric acid. The quantity must have been small, for the apparatus was not damaged, and the building was damaged on one side only. Of course, there must have been terrific force to the explosion, as the bones of the two dead men were broken in several places, though their flesh was not torn. The two men outside were injured by a falling piece of timber. Their hurts are not serious.

"The explosion was due to one of those inexplicable freaks, which nobody can explain, and which cannot be guarded against. The two men must have been standing very close to the acid at the time it detonated."

CLAIMS FORCIBLE ENTRY.

Barbikas, the Greek who conducts the White Rose candy store at Twenty-third and Macdonald, has taken steps to bring action against Herbert Brown, the realty man, claiming that Brown, with the assistance of friends, made forcible entrance to rooms back of his store yesterday afternoon. Barbikas claims that he has a lease on the property to run four years yet, and that Brown objected to his sub-leasing to Mr. Moitoza, who desired to conduct a real estate office there. According to Barbikas, Brown took down the signs and locked the place. Mr. Brown could not be located last night, being out of the city.

PRE-LENTEN WHIST.

A pre-lenten whist party, the last social event which members of the Catholic church of this city may enjoy until after Easter will be held by the ladies of St. Mark's Catholic church in Woodmen hall Saturday February 17. A number of beautiful prizes will be offered.

Following the evening at cards, dancing will be enjoyed until a late hour.

SHRINERS AT TRUCKEE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stiver and daughters, Elizabeth and Francis, are spending the week-end at Truckee, enjoying the winter sports, dog trains and Iceland features. The Shriners are at Truckee taking in the doings incident to zero weather.

TRANSFER APPLICATION DOESN'T LOOK GOOD

Frank Cheek, who is conducting a saloon at 910 Tenth street, contemplates having his license transferred to 715 Macdonald avenue, in consequence of which merchants are protesting. They will appear at the council meeting next Monday evening and protets formally. The News has been informed on authority which it considers reliable that the man behind the application is Billy Rodgers, of unsavory saloon reputation on San Pablo avenue. Whether it is or not doesn't make any difference. The News is against any more saloons on Macdonald avenue, for Cheek, Rodgers or anybody else. We are with the protestants with both feet.

SERVIC EBUREAU FILES REPORT FOR JANUARY

Clothing was the principal article dispensed by the Social Service bureau during the month of January, according to the bureau's report filed with the city clerk.

The report shows 26 families aided, 98 persons assisted, work secured for 17, 183 garments given, $36.15 in groceries, $3.25 coal, $6.50 coal, $2 bedding, clothing $5.50. The total amount expended for the month was $63.05.

The bureau reports conditions among the city poor much improved for 1917 and make a special appeal for clothing to be dispensed to men, women and children.

BESSIE BARRISCALE AT THE POINT THEATER

Bessie Barriscale in "The Painted Soul" will be the feature film at the Point theater today.

A young artist paints a picture intended to portray the awakening of a soul. He calls the picture "The Resurrection." The painting not only creates a sensation, but is the means of bringing about the regeneration of a girl of the underworld, one of the artist's models, whom he has rescued from the slums, and who watches the picture, entranced, as she poses in his studio.

There are two other fine reels.

A rare treat is in store Monday for Point theater patrons, when the great Japanese scenic picture will be shown. The Japanese people are the most artistic in the world and they make everything as beautiful as they know how. The scenery harmonizes with graceful architecture.

Worshippers at a Shinto temple are shown.

Some of the rare dwarfed trees are also thrown on the screen. These trees are tended for hundreds of years by one family and are trained into artistic shapes and forms.

Two other entertaining reels.

SANTA FE BLOCK SYSTEM.

The Santa Fe has given notice to the Railroad Commission that the company will spend $500,000 in putting in a block system for its lines, starting from Ferry Point, Richmond, and going to Needles, Cal.

Mrs. Holman of Fullerton is visiting for a few days with her son, T. M. Jolly, station agent for the Santa Fe at San Pablo.

Mrs. Bonner, aged mother of Mrs. C. M. Cook, living at 118 Seventh street, is seriously ill.

NICHOLLS WIRES CHANCES GOOD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.
F. J. Hulaniski, Editor News,
Richmond, Cal.:

Replying to your wire will say new war situation seems to strengthen project to establish naval base on San Francisco bay. Definite information not yet given out, but chances of Richmond-Albany site conceded to be good. Phelan, Curry, Cutting, myself and others constantly on watch. Richmond harbor appropriation sure to pass Senate, with $100,000 immediately available. Start home soon. War cloud black.

JOHN H. NICHOLL.

NEWS FROM THE POINT

Mrs. H. R. Rasmussen, who has been living at the Point the past three years has moved to her own home on Irvine street.

Mrs. Ella Stone has returned to her home on Washington Avenue after a visit in San Francisco.

Richard Nicholls, formerly of the Point, is very ill at his home in San Francisco.

J. H. Fuller of Berkeley was a visitor at the Point yesterday.

Mrs. Bonner, mother of Mrs. C. M. Cook, is very seriously ill at the Cook home.

Mrs. Bennett Sugrue and children of San Francisco are visiting friends at the Point.

Mrs. Richard Paasch, wife of Chief Paasch of No. 1, is ill with a severe cold.

SOME STRING.

Did you ever see 50 miles of string in one ball? No? Well, you drop around to the barber shop of H. L. Springer at 101 Ohio street and you will see a ball of ordinary cotton twine, weighing nearly 100 pounds, and containing nearly fifty miles of string. Springer has been seventeen years winding that ball. The string came around laundry packages mostly.

FUNERAL OF C. STOLKER.

The funeral of Charles Stolker was one of the largest seen in Richmond in many months. The casket was covered with floral tokens, and there was a large attendance of sorrowing friends, many coming from his old home in Petaluma. The family extends thanks to all who tendered kindnesses in their bereavement.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET.

The Wilson Democratic club will meet at Judge Roth's office Tuesday evening at 7:30 to arrange for the inaugural banquet at the Richmond, March 3rd. Prominent speakers have been engaged for the latter date, among them being Theodore Bell. All are invited to the Tuesday meeting.

CHICAGO CUBS ARE COMING TO RICHMOND

There is likely to be some baseball in Richmond on the 13th of March, which date has been set for the appearance in this city against the Richmond nine of the Chicago Cubs, weather permitting.

To get this game it is necessary to guarantee the visitors $200, and the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to underwrite the guarantee It ought to be easy enough to get a 200-dollar gate for such an event.

There will doubtless be a big crowd present from all over this district. But it would be better to have the game Sunday than Tuesday.

CLASSY VAUDEVILLE AT THE RICHMOND

If you want to be sure of getting a seat, you had better attend the matinee today for that big vaudeville bill. This is the best vaudeville bill by far that has been engaged for this theater. The headliner is Gauze, the Canadian Indian contralto, and there are four other big acts which some people might prefer to give stellar honors.

Whelan and Orr are the comedy features. They are right from the fun factory.

W. B. STEWART LEAVING CITY FOR SPOKANE, WASH.

W. B. Stewart, formerly prominent in newspaper circles in this city, will leave for Spokane, Wash., Thursday evening, in which city he will be adjuster for the B. G. Goodrich Rubber company in the automobile tire division. For six months past Stewart has been an assistant adjuster in the San Francisco branch, but the position which he will go to fill in the "Capital of the Inland Empire" is a signal promotion.

Stewart was at one time connected with the Daily Independent, and later with the Daily News in the capacity of reporter and later city editor. He is a graduate of the local high school, and was prominent in its school activities during his attendance. A farewell dinner is being given in Stewart's honor Wednesday evening by several of his friends.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A birthday party was given in honor of Miss Elizabeth Sisson at the Community Club house at San Pablo Friday night. The evening was spent in playing games and singing. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. Spagnoli, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jolly, Mrs. Francis McClennai and Mrs. Holeman; the Misses Lucile Royal, Helen Whisler, Marie Beckman, Alice Maloney, Marguerita Jolly, Frances Fiohs, Irma Maxwell, Gladys McCausland, Elizabeth Sisson, Masters Era Howard, Fred Sproul, Clarence Dunlap, Walter Dunlap, Wm. Hutton, Wm. Beckman, Alphonso Alameda, Burkhardt Jarimillo, Lyle McCausland, Donald Whisler, Roy Hansen, Valentine Fiohs, Eddie Soito, Harry Soito, Carl Sisson.

THE WEATHER.

San Francisco and vicinity—Fair and pleasant weather Sunday; light northeast wind.

U. S. SIEZES SIX GERMAN INTERNED SHIPS

Stupendous Preparations for War Break with Germany

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany are severed.

German Ambassador von Bernstorff was handed his passports at 1:57 this afternoon.

A few moments later President Wilson appeared before a joint session of the House and Senate and informed Congress of the action that had been taken and, looking toward the future, said:

"If American ships and American lives should in fact be sacrificed * * * * * in heedless contravention of the just and reasonable understanding of international law and the obvious dictates of humanity, I shall take the liberty of coming again before Congress to ask that authority be given me to use any means that may be necessary for the protection of our seamen and our people and the prosecution of their peaceful and legitimate errands on the high seas. I can do nothing less. I take for granted that all neutral governments will take the same course."

This statement of the President left no doubt in anyone's mind who heard him that he meant that he would ask for sanction on a declaration of war if he is again compelled to to visit the capitol on the subject.

When the resident closed he was met with a tremendous outbreak of cheering from both sides of the chamber and from the galleries—Republicans and Democrats alike.

SIX GERMAN SHIPS ARE SEIZED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—The German auxiliary cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich, interned at the Philadelphia navy yard, were seized by order of the Navy Department early tonight and their crews imprisoned in an isolation barracks. The seizure was followed by the placing of an armed guard at the yard entrance, while marines were assigned to patrol the land side limits of the government preserve.

SEIZURE AT PANAMA.

PANAMA, Feb. 3.—Four Hamburg-American Line steamships which have been in Cristobal harbor were seized this afternoon by the Canal Zone authorities. Night harbor traffic at Cristobal has been stopped and strict protective measures have been taken throughout the Canal Zone.

HALF BILLION FOR DEFENSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Thomas of Colorado today introduced a resolution authorizing the issue of $500,000,000 in bonds to enable the government to put the country in a state of military and naval preparedness.

While Senate leaders denied they were ready to authorize huge expenditures at this time, unless the President asked them, the action of Senator Thomas points clearly to the fact that there is general sentiment in favor of getting the nation ready for war, if complications continue to pile up.

The Royal Neighbors are planning a whist party for the 12th. The committee: Mesdames Bonnie, Vickery, Woods and Whitney. Refreshments will be served.

PLANS OF ACTION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Four plans of immediate action in case of war with Germany have been worked out by the general staff of the army, it was learned today.

They involve:

Using the regular army and national guard as a nucleus to train an army of two million a year, sending no troops to Europe during that period.

Obtaining immediate passage of universal military service law and calling out the first three classes under it.

Extensive establishment of training camps in every state.

Putting American munition plants and other factores to work furnishing supplies and munitions for an army of two million men and converting other factories for this work.

MARE ISLAND ON WAR BASIS.

VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 3.—Mare Island navy yard was placed on a war basis today.

Visitors were barred from all parts of the government establishment. Simultaneously rush orders were issued to complete repairs on all men of war now in dock.

Great activity was displayed at the magazines and in other quarters.

RUSH WARSHIPS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A resolution empowering the President to take over all private shipbuilding yards and force work of construction of battleships to the utmost, was introduced by Chairman Padgett of the House Naval Affairs Committee, and will be acted upon Tuesday.

WAR OUTLOOK IS GLOOMY.

It is with a feeling of sadness that we start to write anything editorially about this new war trouble with Germany, and wonder what to say. Nothing can be said, except to express sorrow that anything of the sort should have happened, and to mingle that with a prayer to the Father who watches even the fall of the sparrow, to guide us as a nation right and avert if possible the calamity of war on the part of a people who want no war.

We feel this night as we imagine President Wilson felt when he went away by himself and prayed for guidance over the tragedy of the "Lusitania." It is no time for harsh thoughts, nor yet for hot words. It is a time for cool deliberation on the part of those in authority and on the part of all the people as well.

Under the rules of international law, recognized by all nations until now, Germany refuses to keep its promises regarding it, our President could probably do nothing other than what he has done—sever diplomatic relations. Yet that carries with it the grave possibilities of actual warfare, and that is the last thing the American people want, or the German people, either.

We hope and pray that Germany will commit no overt act against American ships or American people on ships, and that war may thus be averted, but the outlook is gloomy.

Preparedness, especially of a naval character, will now be rushed with all speed, and a bond issue of five hundred millions will likely be authorized by Congress to meet all emergencies.

It seems to us that one other step should be immediately taken on the part of our Government, and that is to place an embargo on all shipments from this country to foreign ports, both of munitions, products and people. This would do away with the danger of actual warfare, for the Germans are not going to sink any ships if there are none in sight to sink, and it is not necessary that there should be any.

If this country becomes involved in real warfare, the cause will be at the door of the millionaire shippers of munitions and products whose greed for gold knows no bounds. Stop their shipments and there will be no war.

It seems to us that the thing for the United States to do at this time is to withdraw into its shell like the tortoise, sit tight, keep still, and let the belligerent countries cut each other's throats to their hearts' content, international law or no international law.

The Daredevil

By Maria Thompson Daviess

Copyright, 1916, by the Reilly & Britton Co.

I do like with my whole heart that funny Buzz Clendenning, who has the reddest hair, the largest brown speckles on his face and the widest mouth that I have ever beheld. Also, his laugh is even wider than is his mouth, and overflows the remainder of his face in ripples of what is called grin. He is not much taller than am I, but of much more powerful build, as is natural, though he did not at that moment recognize the reason thereof.

"Shake hands, boys. Don't stand looking at each other like young puppies," said my uncle, the General Robert, as he clapped his hand on the back of the Mr. Buzz Clendenning. "You don't have to fight it out. Your fathers licked each other week about for twenty years."

"Can't I even ask him to take off his coat once, general?" answered that Mr. Buzz with the grin all over his face and spreading to my countenance as he took my hand in his to administer one of those shakes of which I had had so many since my arrival in America. For a second he looked startled and glanced down at my white hand that he held in his, and from it to my eyes that were looking into his with the entire friendliness of my heart. Suddenly I had a great fright of discovery within me, and my knees began to again tremble together for their skirts, but before that fright had reached my eyes quite I had borne to me an elder brother in the person of that Buzz Clendenning, and I now know that I can never lose him, even when he knows that—

"I'm no shakes in the duel, prince, so let's kiss and make up before you get out your sword," he said as he also, as my uncle, the General Robert, had done, laid an arm across my shoulders in an embrace of affection. It was then I made a discovery in the strange land into which I was penetrating—men have much sentiment in their hearts that it is impossible for a woman to discover from behind a fan. They keep it entirely for each other as comrades, and I received a large portion of such an affection when that Mr Buzz Clendenning adopted me in what he thought was my foreign weakness as a small brother to be protected in his large heart.

"I am very happy to so salute you instead of the duel," I made answer and did immediately put a kiss on his one cheek, expecting that he would return it upon my cheeks, first one and then another, as is the custom of comrades and officers in France.

"I made answer and did immediately put a kiss on his one cheek."

"Help, help! Don't do that again, or I'll call out the police," responded that funny Mr. Buzz Clendenning, as he shook me away from him, while my uncle, the General Robert, and the great gouverneur did both indulge in laughter.

"I am abashed, and I beg your pardon for offending against the customs of your country. I do remember now that my father did not permit such a salutation from his brother officers, and I will not do so again, M. Buzz Clendenning," I said as my cheeks became crimson with mortification, and tears would have come over my eyes had my pride permitted.

"This is what he meant you to do, Buzz, you duffer. I said goodby to twenty-two of my friends this way the day I set sail from old Heidelberg," and as he spoke that great and beautiful and exalted Gouverneur Faulkner did bend his head to mine and give to me the correct comrade salute of my own country on first one of my cheeks and then upon the other.

"Yes, sir; it's mighty pretty to look at, but I reckon the kid had better stow the habit before he is introduced to Jeff Whitworth and Miles Menefee and the rest of the bunch," said that Mr. Buzz as he left off wiping from his cheek with the back of his hand the kiss I had put there and administered to me another embrace on my shoulders with his long arm. "Besides, youngster, there are girls in Hayesville," he added, with a grin that again was reflected on my face without my will and which did entirely take away my anger and embarrassment at his repulse.

"Girls, girls!" exploded my uncle, the General Robert. "The female young generally known as girls are about as much use to humanity as a bunch of pinfeathers tied with a pink ribbon would be in the place of the household feather duster that the Lord lets them grow into after they reach their years of discretion. Robert has no time to waste with the unfledged. Don't even suggest it to him, Clendenning. And now you can take him around to my house and tell Kizzie to begin filling you both up while I wait for a moment to go over these papers with the governor. And both of you avoid the female young, for we've work for you—mind you, work and no gallivanting. Now go! Depart!"

"The old boy is a forty-two centimeter gun that fires at the mention of the lovely sex and doesn't stop until the ammunition gives out," said Mr. Buzz Clendenning as he slid into the seat of his slim gray racer beside me and started from the curb on high without a single kick of the engine. "I'd like to wish a nice girl whom he couldn't shake off on to him for about a week and watch him squirm along to surrender. Wait until you see Sue Tomlinson get hold of him down on the street some day. He shuts his eyes and just fires away at her while she purrs at him, and it is a sight for the gods. Sue's father died and left her with her invalid mother and not enough money to invite in the auctioneer, but the general took some old accounts of the doctor's, collected and invested them and made up plenty of money for Sue's grubstake, though he goes around three blocks to get past her. Sue adores him and approaches him from all sides, but has never made a landing yet. Say, you'll like Sue. She is pretty enough to eat, but don't try to bite. It's no use."

"Is it that this lovely Mlle. Sue does not like gentlemen save my uncle, the General Robert?" I asked with great interest. I was glad in my heart that I was soon to see and speak with a nice girl, even if it had to be in character of a man.

"Oh, she loves us—all!" answered that Mr. Buzz, with the greatest gloom

Small Topics of Interest, Scraps of Conversation and Bits of Gossip

Along about midnight two police were at the First National Bank corner with Mayers, the dyer and cleaner, between 'em, and we thought sure we had a good item, but they were only discussing the war situation. Dern!

BLAME ME.

By T. M. CORNELL.

Comrade Neill wishes me to call attention to the fact that February 12th is Lincoln's Birthday and it is in keeping to have the flag he loved displayed on all public and private buildings on that date. A committee appointed by the local G. A. R. is to visit the different schools and attend the exercises, which will be held during the day.

Glorify Old Glory and Lincoln.

Giving people the benefit of your foresightedness is a good business policy. The Economy Store is selling Utility ginghams Monday and Tuesday at the wholesale price of 12 1-2 cents per yard.
